

Multigrain Pasta

Orgran Multigrain Pasta are naturally gluten free and are produced with a combination of nutritious rice, sun ripened corn and millet; one is added with the revered Amaranth and the other with Quinoa.

Amaranth and Quinoa are nutritional wonders that have high levels of protein and were a staple food of the ancient Incas and Aztecas. Combining Amaranth and Quinoa with other grains enhances the quality and complements the nutritional offering that is balanced in flavour and allows versatility for the application in any recipe. As an added benefit Orgran Multigrain Pastas are easier to digest when compared to wheat pasta and assists with diverse nutrition and variation essential for a well balanced diet and well being.

The Orgran production plant is also one of the few plants in the world specifically designed and producing in a strictly controlled wheat free, gluten free environment to ensure highest quality and purity of natural foods. The very unique process encompasses traditional methods to retain the delicate natural flavour of the grains. It also ensures the product offers the highest biological; benefits to meet the strictest demands set by consumers of natural foods and those on specialised diets.
